To All NASO Suppliers for electronics or metal fabrication,

NASO is a highly recognized turnkey manufacturer of critical medical devices. Including surgical lasers, patient monitoring, and respiratory therapy (including but not limited to critical care for life support ventilators).

All requests and requirements being asked of you at this time are in support of the build of ventilators. These are required to support the current shortage crisis of ventilators due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

NASO has committed to our client all and any support required combating COVID-19. Including but not limited to 24-7 production. We are asking the same of you. We appreciate any and all support you could extend to our company.

If you need any additional information or questions please contact Joseph Biro at 805-901-4492 or via email jbiro@naso.com

Best regards,
